About the Promoter Bhaji Poodi

Mr. Govind Singh Rawat

Founder

Mr. Govind Singh Rawat, a restaurant industry veteran, holds more than 14 years of food service industry experience and has very closely observed the needs of the customers. This inspired him to start his own entrepreneurial venture Bhaji poodi outlets which are running successfully at multiple locations.

He has deep understanding of Food Service industry. When Mr. Govind decided to start Bhaji poodi, he had a singular vision of serving delicious food and bring the utmost comfort, satisfaction, quality and price for the customers. The vision and mission of Bhaji poodi is to reach vast majority of famous cities in India and bring new recipes according to the place. L! CHEF came into existence under the long term vision of creating a brand offering the customers with finger licking food and exposure to different range and variations of taste and culinary experience.

Mr. Govind has been deep diving into it to find pearls of knowledge about the Food Service industry. He has been associated with Food Craft Institute (FCI) where he has shared these pearls of knowledge with students.

Mr. Govind is also part of Delhi College of Catering and Hotel Management (DCCHM). He has been involved in mentoring and training several students here.

Food and Beverage Industry Analysis

Key Highlights:

- ? Food & beverage sector has scope for higher value addition in terms of service and customer experience as the current level of processing is lower compared to global standards.
- ? Export potential is high as currently it is concentrated only on select food items.
- ? Food wastage levels are a key concern, especially in case of fruits and vegetables.
- ? Challenges in supply chain exist due to inefficiencies and inadequate capabilities. New business models and initiatives are evolved to build capabilities.
- ? Product development and innovation focus is lacking, changing consumer preferences are expected to drive innovation.
- ? Concept driven restaurants are gaining popularity.

Indian Consumer:

- ? Indian consumers are comparatively younger. More than 50% consumer base is below the age of 30.
- ? Indian consumer's income levels are increasing. There is change in consumption patterns due to rising dual income groups.
- ? With increase in purchasing power the aspiration of Indian consumers is rising. They are looking for higher standard of living – quality, variety, choices and convenience.
- ? More and more Indian consumers are becoming health and hygiene conscious. The consumption is shifting to protein rich and organic foods.
- ? With the Internet boom more and more Indians are becoming Internet savvy. Increasing number of Indians prefer shopping online for convenient and discounts. They consult sites like Zomato, TripAdvisor, Justdial, Food Panda and Groupon to learn more about restaurants and cafes.

Food Service Industry

- ? The food service industry is largely dominated by unorganized sector. There is a scope for brand building in the food service industry.
- ? Quick Service Cafe (QSR) has emerged as the largest segment in the food service industry.
- ? Localization of the menu and also enriching eating out experience is key for success
- ? According to a Franchise India 2015 report, the Indian food services industry currently valued at USD 41.3 billion is estimated to be nearly worth USD 65.4 billion by 2018 and is growing at a healthy compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 11%. The Organized Food Service Industry is worth $13.79 billion (approx. 33% of total Indian Food Service Industry) and growing at 16.6% as per Grant Thornton and FICCI 2015 report. Standalone restaurants, which comprise 22% of the market, is the fastest-growing while the cafe segment with 12% market share is growing at 10.7% a year.
- ? The F&B service sector in India comprises two distinct market segments:

Organised – Chain and licensed standalone players across quick service café, casual and, hotels, bars and lounges, cafes and frozen desert formats.

Another major factor propelling demand for food services in India is the growing youth population, primarily in urban regions of the country. The country has a large base of young consumers who form majority of the workforce and due to time constraints barely get time to cook.

Casual Dining

- x Casual Dining is an exciting segment that revolves around specific cuisines or themes focusing on elaborate menus, quality of food and increased focus on presentation. On the other hand, consumer indulgence is increasingly fuelled by non-occasion outings to these outlets.
- x The Casual Dine market is led by domestic players, which are largely region-specific. There are a few international players present in the space which have a PAN-India presence. With the growth in the segment, some new players have also entered the space and the existing ones have been innovating as well as expanding their operations albeit at a slow pace.
- x Currently, there are ~1700 -1800 Casual Dine outlets spread across India in the affordable and premium segment. The player spread is the highest in the metros at 45%, followed by mini metros with 35% of all outlets. Across Tier I and Tier II+ cities, the outlet density is low.
- x Dine-in and non-Dine-in options form a good mix to sales in the Casual Dine segment. Most of the sales (60%) are through dine in, delivery services contribute a healthy 30% to sales, followed by takeaway which brings in 10% of total sales.
- x The main meal times of lunch (1300 -1600 hours) and dinner (1900 -2200 hours) contribute to ~85% of the total sales at Casual Dine outlets. However, the peak business hours of outlets located in office complexes are more skewed towards lunch time.

Quick Service Café

- x A fast food café, also known as a quick service restaurant (QSR) within the industry, is a specific type of cafe characterized both by its fast food cuisine and by minimal table service
- x Largely present in metros and mini metros due to high consumption, heightened consumer awareness and exposure
- x Quick service restaurants are now expanding into smaller cities with smaller formats.
- x The concept of QSR has gained increased prominence in India characterized by entry of Indian and international brands into the QSR space encouraging affordable eating. The QSR segment has 90 to 100 brands with 3000 outlets.

Key Quick Service Café.

Café

- x A café is an outlet serving a range of coffee and other hot and cold drinks and quick bites such as pastries, sandwiches and breakfast.
- x Coffee chains in India remained an underpenetrated market till recently
- x The café market has witnessed an aggressive expansion by established brands both domestic and international.
- x Over past five years, the café culture has grown with many new cafés opening across all major cities.
- x Currently there are around 100 chain cafes and bakery brands with an estimated 3,100 to 3,200 outlets.

Indian Food Brands: Think Global Act Local

- x Restaurant industry in India has opened the biggest business opportunity so popular brands are gaining ground in the Indian food market.
- x The hospitality of Indian food café is beyond par. The enthusiastic service of waiter impress patrons and make them come back again.
- x Indian food is considered good for health and wholesome.
- x The blend of exotic spices and ingredients make each dish a piece of handcrafted art. The aroma is as mouth-watering as the taste.
- x Indian cuisine is being experimented with food fusions and reinventing recipes.
- x Traditional Indian food remains the top priority for comfort food. The familiarity and home like taste makes us partial to traditional Indian food.
- x The maximum growth being witnessed is still in the standalone restaurant space where local taste along with uniqueness of concept are the key deciding factors.

Issues faced by the Food Service Industry

Food service industry is a booming sector but not without its share of concerns and challenges that industry is grappling to overcome.

- ? High Attrition: Food service industry suffers from high attrition rate.
- ? Unavailability of skilled manpower: The availability of skilled manpower is a challenge for the food service industry.
- ? Absence of standard certifications: There is absence of standard certifications for food service industry.
- ? High real estate prices: There is a requirement of prime real estate locations for food service industry hence it increases the payback period.
- ? Poor infrastructure: Indian infrastructure needs to improve in order to support food service industry.
- ? Over licensing: The existing red-tapism requires businesses to get several approvals and licenses.
- ? Health and hygiene concerns among customers: Hygiene is a major concern in the unorganized sector in food and service industry.
- ? Managing an efficient assembly line: The operations need to be conducted efficiently in food and service industry for smooth delivery.
- ? Building a cost effective supply chain: The supply chain needs to be efficient as food and service industry requires fresh food. But the unorganized sector faces the issue of supply chain efficiency.
- ? Maintaining a standardized quality of service and taste: Another issue faced by unorganized sector is maintaining same standard of food quality, taste and customer service.
- ? Managing third party vendors: Food and service industry requires managing several third party vendors like food supplier, dairy products supplier, vegetables supplier, vendor supporting waste disposal, water supply etc. The consistency of services by vendors is an issue in food and service industry.

Trends in Fast Food market in India

1. Health Consciousness:
  - ? Increasing health awareness has forced consumers to look out for healthier options and to follow a balanced diet plan.
  - ? Moving in tandem with this shift, food service operators are incorporating different health food variants in their menus, either as a direct product offering or as an ingredient contributing to the final product.
2. Urbanization supports growth
  - ? Increase of disposable income among young people has increased demand for dining out
  - ? Nearly 34% of population dine out at least once a week and nearly 50% attribute no specific reason to dine out
  - ? The annual average spending of each middle class household in India's Tier-I cities have increased by more than 35% to ₹ 6,800 on fast food restaurants between 2012
3. Consumer's love for international cuisines intensifies further
  - ? Chinese cuisine has the highest penetration in QSR and standalone formats followed by Italian and American cuisines
  - ? There has been a rise in the number of exclusive Middle Eastern, Japanese and Mexican restaurants in the past 5 years
4. Third party ordering and aggregator delivery sites gain momentum
  - ? Home delivery or takeaway orders placed online in India: Well below 10%
  - ? 80% of the Indian food industry is for Indian cuisine. 20% is for international cuisine
  - ? 60% of dishes ordered on Just Eat are vegetarian
  - ? In Tier 1 cities consumer on an average orders food once a week. The average ticket size is ₹ 350-400.

The Competition

The competition is categorised into direct and indirect competition.

Direct Competition:

Players are considered as direct competition if they:

- ¾ Have similar food offerings
- ¾ Are targeting youth
- ¾ Offer pricing in the medium range

The direct competition is further categorised into:

Franchised chains: Restaurant chains which are franchising.

- a) Sagar Ratna
- b) Moti Mahal
- c) Vittal Kamat
- d) Rajdhani
- e) Shiv Sagar
- f) Nirula's
- g) La'Chef

Indirect Competition:

Players are considered as indirect competition if they:

- ¾ Are present in Food and Beverage service
- ¾ Have adopted growth model
- ¾ Have targeted youth
- ¾ Pricing in medium range
- ¾ Similar in investment range

The indirect competition is further categorised into:

Franchised chains: Restaurants/café chains which are increasing their presence.

- a) McDonalds
- b) Subway
- c) Pizza Hut
- d) Domino's Pizza
- e) KFC
- f) Bhaji poodi

Elements of Customer Experience

- x Location: The location is of utmost importance to generate high footfalls and provide easier accessibility to the target customers. High visibility locations in metro cities, Tier I cities and tourist destinations are to be concentrated primarily.
- x Brand: The brand is growing steadily in Aligarh, Baddi and Kishtwar and has huge potential for operating in multi-cuisine category. Youthfulness has to be communicated well in moving to new locations.
- x Value: Franchise network should add value in terms of enhancing convenience of ordering and improving top of mind recall.
- x Experience: The staff at the outlets should deliver hassle free and friendly service.
- x Change: The menu is adaptable to other regions in India. Effectiveness need to be achieved through better combo and local offers.

Recommendations on Franchise Model

Franchise Model – Alliance options

On evaluating the Bhaji poodi business model and the industry it operates in, Francorp recommends to adopt Unit and Multi Unit Franchise.

1. Francorp recommends 'Unit franchise' as a feasible option at the growth stage of initial 2 - 3 years.
2. After initial success, the franchisor can opt for granting multi franchise to the existing successful franchisee based on location.

Francorp recommendations: We feel there exists huge opportunity to be tapped. The model is most suitable with the Franchise Owned and Franchise Operated (FOFO) model.

Details of Franchise owned Franchise operated (FOFO) Model

- x Franchisee brings all the investments both initial capital and also the working capital
  - x Since the franchisee has invested a large amount of money in the business, he/she has vested interest and stake in the business.
  - x Will bring in more efficiencies, better control; thus likely to have a profitable business venture
  - x Limited training and manpower costs to the franchisor
  - x The franchisee pays royalties to the franchisor
  - x This FOFO business model is expected to bring sustainability and independent scalability to the franchisee.
- 9 Presence in strategic locations: Need based gap: The locations where full branding capabilities can be established to improve foot fall.
  - 9 Pure franchise model : Franchise is responsible for sales and marketing the customer base.
  - 9 Acquire operational facility: Franchisor will assist in selecting the operational facility.

Franchise Fees and Royalty recommendations:

The methodology for fee determination calls for franchisors to look to their franchise fees primarily as a cost recovery tool and secondarily as a profit centre.

- I. Cost Plus Approach:
  - x The franchisor calculates its total support costs involved in selling a franchise and adds a reasonable markup.
  - x Covered costs may include marketing and lead generation expenses, site evaluation, general and administrative expenses, headquarters training, on-site training and travel
- II. Competition based pricing:
  - x A "ceiling" price for the franchise by considering what the market will bear.
  - x No franchisee fees (if direct competition is considered)
  - x However, a 10 % of the project cost of franchise is the industry norm
- III. Perceived Value Approach:
  - x Francorp uses this approach to determine where a franchisee fee should be set above the 'Floor' Price.
  - x Note: Some franchisors will intentionally price above the ceiling prices to establish the "EXCLUSIVITY" of the franchise offering, while others will price well below its assumed costs in an effort to saturate the market.

Recommendations: FOFO Model

Support	Training, Manuals, Hardware & Software, Marketing, Audit, Site evaluation/visibility, Dedicated team, Launch and Store set up.
Key Ingredients & Manpower Selection	By Franchisor

Support and Capability building:

1. Initial Set up:

Once the franchisee is on board, the responsibility of the franchisor to assist the franchisee in getting the business operational

2. Marketing during launch:

- 9 Capital to invest
- 9 Comfort level with franchisor

Other parameters that can be overlooked given the franchise score heavily on critical parameters

- 9 Own space at the right location
- 9 Educational qualifications

Preferred Franchise Profile

On the basis of the business concept, format and ratings on the above criteria, following characteristics are recommended for a franchisee of Bhaji poodi

Existing professionals with business experience in customer service: This is recommended as a first preference because of readily available space, customers base and experience in the customer service industry that will be much needed expertise to run F&B business.

Real Estate Developers: As a second preference ; a developer will have access to good location. A new restaurant in a newly developed area is a good opportunity to enter a new catchment area. This is also a good selling proposition for the developer.

Investors: As a third preference; franchisee follows the predetermined standards defined by Franchisor with sound financial backup.

Note: All the above profiles need owner/franchisee involvement in business operations.
